07.08.2024.

Mr. Sanaullah Noor Ghori, advocate for the applicant.
Mr. Muhammad Aslam Khan, advocate for respondent No. 1.
Muhammad Asim Rashid Officer Incharge Legal HR, CAA is present.

Learned counsel for the applicant submits that virtually the judgment and decree of the trial Court has been satisfied and all the payments have been made to respondent No. 1 by the applicant; hence, this Civil Revision Application has become infructuous and he does not press the same.

Learned counsel for respondent No. 1, on the other hand, submits that decree has not been fully satisfied and respondent No. 1 has not been given full amount.

Be that as it may, since the Revision Application has been filed by the applicant and he claims satisfaction of the decree, and thus this Revision Application having become infructuous, it is accordingly dismissed as not pressed alongwith listed applications. If respondent No.1 has any grievance regarding non-satisfaction of the decree, he may file an application before the Executing Court for redressal of his grievance.
