- 1. For orders on office objection.

Mr. Ghulam Abbas Dalwani, Deputy P.G.
=

None present for the applicant. No intimation received. On last date of hearing, same was the position. The instant application was presented on 12.01.2023 and since then no progress has been made. However, I have perused the impugned order wherein the trial court has observed that as per report of the concerned Mukhtiarkar, it does not clearly transpire that the subject land is in illegal occupation of the proposed accused persons. The police report reflects only that there is a dispute between both parties over the land, which has been cultivated by the proposed accused while the complainant simultaneously claims the same as his property. It was also noted that the matter is already pending before the Deputy Commissioner, Tharparkar as well as Mukhtiarkar Mithi and that the police report does not point out that the disputed land is in the illegal possession of the accused persons without title. The trial court further observed that the ownership/title of the complainant remains ambiguous and not clear; no specific date or time of dispossession is mentioned in the memo of complaint; and both reports do not establish that the accused persons are in illegal possession and since both parties claim title to the land the conflict can only be determined by a competent Civil Court or Revenue Forum having jurisdiction.

In view of above, no illegality or material irregularity is committed by the trial court while passing the impugned order, as such Crl. Revision Application stands dismissed.
