Learned counsel for the petitioners is called absent, without any intimation. These are old cases of one year and learned counsel for petitioners has failed in pursuing these petitions, diligently in the last one year. Today again, learned counsel for petitioners is called absent, without intimation. Perhaps this is because the instant petitions have become infructuous. As such, instant petitions are dismissed as having become infructuous as well as on account of non-prosecution along with pending application(s).
