Date

Order with signature of Judge
-----

For hearing of bail application.

05th July 2023

At the outset, learned counsel for the applicant contends that the majority of witnesses have been examined, and only two or three witnesses are remaining. Furthermore, there is no allegation that the applicant has misused the concession of bail. On the other hand learned APG contends that the applicant remained fugitive of the law and the deceased body, who is the wife of the applicant, was found at his home. Learned counsel for the complainant also agrees with the proposition of the learned counsel for the applicant. Accordingly, interim pre-arrest bail earlier granted is hereby confirmed with direction to the trial court to conclude the trial within two months. Needless to mention that in case, applicant is causing any hindrance or issuing threats to the complainant or witnesses, complainant would be at liberty to file application for cancellation of bail before the trial Court.

The instant bail application is disposed of in the above terms
