Mr. Irfan Ahmed Qureshi, advocate for petitioner
***

The petitioner has invoked the jurisdiction of this Court under Article 199 of the Constitution in the matter of construction of a storm water sub-drain, with it being said that the irrigation authorities have failed to conduct a proper survey of the land in question so as to ascertain its gradient, hence the envisaged project is defective from a technical/engineering standpoint and would result in unnecessary loss to the exchequer. However, on query posed as to what law/rules/regulations have been violated so as to give rise to a challenge on a legal plane, no provision of law was identified. Under the circumstances, the petition does not present a fit case for issuance of a writ and stands dismissed accordingly.
