MUHAMMAD IQBAL KALHORO J: Applicants are seeking post arrest bail in Crime No.1278/2025 U/s 462-B,462-C, 34 PPC r/w section 7 ATA, 1997 registered at P.S. Zaman Town, Karachi.

2. As per FIR, a Security Officer in PARCO alongwith a police team raided a Plot No.397/5 Sector 148 Industrial Area on spy information that people there were engaged in stealing oil from the main Oil Pipe Line. In the raid, present applicants alongwith two others were arrested and necessary equipment recovered. Whereas some accused whose names were subsequently disclosed by the applicants escaped from the spot. Police were able to collect all necessary paraphernalia used for stealing oil from the main Oil Pipe Line that was found punctured for this purpose. Hence this case.

3. Learned counsel have pleaded for bail on the ground that co-accused have been granted bail; there is no criminal record of the applicants; only 03 liters oil was recovered from the place of incident and still the prosecution has not examined any witness; and there is no independent witness.

4. On the other hand, learned DAG and counsel for the complainant have opposed bail citing red handed apprehension of the applicants from the spot alongwith all the incriminating material showing their involvement.

5. We have considered submissions of the parties and perused material available on record. In our view, applicants are not entitled to concession of bail at this stage as they were found at the spot stealing oil from main Oil Pipe Line, a national treasure, which is a serious offence keeping in view the current oil situation in the country. They were caught red handed with the Pipe Line punctured for this purpose. The FIR has been registered by an officer of the PARCO who has apparently no enmity with the applicants to falsely implicate them in this case. Rule of consistency is not applicable as none of the accused who was arrested from the spot has been granted bail. The accused granted bail are those whose names were disclosed by the arrested accused latter on. Hence case of the applicants is different from them. We, therefore, do not find the applicants entitled for bail. While dismissing the bail applications, we however direct the trial court to examine the witnesses expeditiously within a reasonable time and conclude the case.

The observations made hereinabove are tentative in nature and would not prejudice case of either party at trial.

The Cr. Bail Application is disposed of.
