ORDER

MUHAMMAD IQBAL KALHORO J:- The main ground for filing this Cr. Revision Application against the impugned order dated 08.08.2026, passed by learned Special Court-I (CNS), Karachi in Spl. Case No.02/2026 (St. Vs. Abdul Haq & others), dismissing applicant's application for restoration of the vehicle viz. Toyota Corolla Altis Car bearing registration No.BYM-997, is that the applicant had an ample proof of being owner of the said vehicle by way of agreement of sale of sale and other documents etc. But these have neither been mentioned by the trial court, nor examined or considered in true context and simply on the basis of the fact that the applicant is not the registered owner, his application has been dismissed.

2. Learned counsel submits that if he is permitted to file a fresh application before the trial court, he would file relevant documents to establish his ownership in respect of the vehicle and get the decision on merits. This proposal has been accepted by the other side. Let the applicant file a fresh application as stated before the trial court. If such application is filed, it shall be decided within 15 days thereof on its own merits.

The Cr. Revision Application is disposed of.
